WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Gardner Cowles, Sr., one of the directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., said today the Corporation was anxious to avoid any controversy with any state official.

"We are hoping to get this matter in shape so that we can intelligently act on Pennsylvania's case," he said. "The governor assumed from the first that his certificate of need was sufficient. But the board takes the stand that it is merely the trustee for this fund of the taxpayers' money. If there has been criticism from any state except Pennsylvania it has not come to me."

Wilson McCarthy, another director, supported Cowles' statement. "The corporation is anxious to give Pennsylvania what it actually needs and close the case," he said.

Washington, Sept. 22.—While the second telegram from Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, denouncing President Hoover and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the relief loan asked for his state, was being received at the White House, much of the information which the R. F. C. has in-

PA NEW OBSERVES

The Weatherman certainly has been on the New Castle Fair Association this year. Better weather conditions could not have been ordered.

PA New hears that work is to be started at once on the erection of a number of new houses in the outer North Hill section.

Work done by the mechanical street sweeping machine operated by the city is certainly appreciated by residents along the many paved streets of the city that are traversed frequently.

September has been a remarkably summery month.

About two more days and this so-called daylight savings time will be history for another year.

Weather of the past couple years has left its mark on the strip of macadam road leading from here to the telephone company's "repeater station" on the New Castle-New Bedford road. The edges are extremely rough—hard on tires and springs, adding to the danger of motorists and pedestrians. That macadam strip is difficult for a fast moving automobile to stay on any way, and is much worse when the edges are rough.

"Keep Off the Grass" signs have been erected on the side of Croton avenue where the retaining wall has been built. Men have been busy

JOHNNY EARLEY AND SISTER AMONG ROBBERY VICTIMS AS PITTSBURGH STORE IS HELD-UP

Johnny Earley, former New Castle high football and track star, and son of Dr. and Mrs. John Earley of Kurtz Place, this city, together with his sister, Mrs. A. G. Rieck, and Pittsburgh girl, Miss Willie, had the undesirable experience of being held up by three masked gunmen in the Woodlawn drug store on Forbes street, Pittsburgh last evening about 10:30 o'clock.

Just what amount of money the bandits obtained from Johnny Earley is not known, but they took his pocketbook and everything that was in it with the exception of a driver's license, which he asked for and which the police man with the gun returned to him.

Mrs. A. G. Rieck, wife of Albert Rieck of Pittsburgh, saved her valuable diamond engagement ring, a 1½-karat ring, by putting it in her mouth when the command "Hands up" was heard.

The New Castle people were in the drug store to get an ice cream soda at the time the bandits ar-

Making Of Awards At Fair About Completed By Judges; Fine Weather Aids Attendance

New Castle fair, the biggest and best in many years, favored by weather conditions and racing and other attractions that exceeded those of past years, on Wednesday experienced an unusually busy day, with more than 5,000 men, women and children from far and near in attendance.

With state highway patrolmen handling traffic on the main thoroughfare and members of Troop F at the entrance and throughout the fair grounds, everything was carried out without a hitch, even to the minutest detail. In spite of the fact that at times the traffic was exceptionally heavy and difficult to handle, everything worked smoothly and to the satisfaction of both management and patrons of the fair.

COSTS REDUCED IN SOME CASES

Commonwealth Side Of Trial
Is Still Being Presented
In County Court

Interest at Lawrence county court this morning centered in the trial of Detective Morris A. Hecht of Pittsburgh and Constable James Ellison of this city, which was taken up yesterday before Judge James A. Chambers. The defendants are charged with conspiracy in connection with arrests made under the fictitious names act.

Testimony showed that in most cases warrants were left at the places of business of persons against whom informations were made, and they were notified to appear before Alderman William E. Marshall.

L. M. Buchanan testified that he is the owner of the New Castle Jewelry Company on Long avenue, and that a notice was served on him to appear before Alderman Marshall. When he went to the office he first met Hecht, who informed him that he had his place of business not registered under the fictitious names act.

Costs Reduced.
Hecht counted up the costs and told Buchanan that if he wanted to settle the case it would cost him around $9. Buchanan replied that he would see his attorney before he paid. Later, after consulting with his attorney, he went back to the office, and Marshall reduced the costs to $7, which he paid. Buchanan stated that as the amount was small he had paid rather than lose time fighting the case. He said that the warrant was left at his place of business by Constable O'Brien. Mr. Buchanan is also engaged in the insurance and real estate business, but runs it under his own name.

Ellwood Case.
Mrs. Fannie Sharitz, of Ellwood City, testified that she and her husband did business under the name of the Subway Market, and had been conducting the business under that name for ten years. A warrant had

RECENTLY RETURNED TO FOREIGN LEGION

Captain Edgar Guerard Hamilton, an officer of the French Foreign Legion, and a native of this city, who only recently left for his post in Morocco, after spending several months in this city, was seriously injured on Wednesday, September 14, when the troop train in which he was returning to his post in the Atlas Mountains in Morocco plunged into a ravine according to a cable received by the family from a Mr. Bullem, supposed to be a friend of Captain Hamilton.

The word was received today by Mrs. Johanna McKee, his aunt, who resides in the Guerard building, North Hill street.

Nothing more than the fact that he was injured on the head is definitely known but it is assumed that he must have been terribly injured, owing to the nature of the accident.

According to a press dispatch there were five hundred officers and men of the French Foreign Legion on board, when between Zeboun and Turenne in the mountainous district enroute from Sidi Del Abbas, Algeria to Oujda, Morocco, the train plunged 250 feet to the bottom of a ravine. A mushy road, bed caused by heavy rains is believed to have caused the accident. The report stated that 100 were killed and 100 seriously injured. Captain Hamilton was enroute to rejoin his regiment.

BARBECUE MAN IS SLIGHTLY WOUNDED BY ARMED BANDITS

REPORT MADE AT 1931 CONVENTION

By DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK Sept. 22.—The 1931 Moose Convention in Atlantic City was informed of the Charity Ball, of the financial success of the affair, and told of plans for a similar one the next year, it was brought out today at the trial of U. S. Senator James J. Davis, charged with violation of the lottery laws.

The government introduced this evidence in an attempt to disprove the defendant's claim that he did not know anything of the 1930 and 1931 affairs which are alleged to have been lotteries.

The minutes of the 1931 convention of the Loyal Order of Moose showed that William F. Broening, mayor of Baltimore, and member of the supreme council, in making his report said:

"During the past year, a charity ball was conducted by nearly all of the lodges of the order, and the reports received by the council from the various localities, indicate that these affairs were a huge success in every way. In addition to the wide

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—A vigorous denial of "wrongdoing" was the answer today of Corliss Palmer Brewster, the "Georgia peach", to a $100,000 heart balm suit charging her with pilfering the love of a married man.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Estelle A. Cohen, wife of Albert J. Cohen, actor's agent. Mrs. Cohen, daughter of a Philadelphia manufacturer, also named the blonde beauty as co-respondent in a divorce suit filed simultaneously with the damage action.

Miss Palmer, estranged wife of Eugene V. Brewster, erstwhile millionaire magazine publisher, admitted that she was "real friendly" with Cohen.

"But I'm not guilty of wrongdoing. Our conduct has been very circumspect," she added.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The New York Yankees and the Chicago Cubs will open the world series on Wednesday with one distinguished man absent.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 22.—Well, we are off again to our old trail. We are not supposed to meddle in foreign affairs, so we don't tell Germany she "can't arm," we "advise her not to."

Now there is nothing that makes a nation, or an individual, as mad as to have somebody say, "now this is really none of my business, but I am just advising you."

They never will get anywhere with this disarmament, for no nation can tell another nation what they need to defend themselves. That's a personal affair. If I sleep with a gun under my pillow I don't want somebody across the street to "advise" me that I don't need it.

Severe Drought Hits Eastern And Central Penna.

Situation Comparable To Drought Conditions Of
1930 Is Report

MANY STREAMS NEARLY DRIED UP

Emergency Measures Taken
To Secure Water For Several Towns

(International News Service)

Summer's swan song was dry and almost tuneless today in Central and Eastern Pennsylvania as scores of communities experienced the most arid period within the memory of residents—and no relief was in sight.

With promises of rain gone glimmering several times, water famines offered a serious threat in many cases and several towns reported conditions worse than during the general drought two years ago when meteorological science was virtually baffled in attempting an explanation.

Warnings Issued.
State authorities have taken cognizance of what threatens to become an alarming situation and issued a warning to all residents in affected areas to adopt water conservation measures.

Totally arid creek beds are not uncommon, in numerous instances streams have become mere trickles of water. While the principal rivers have ebbed to points rivaling the lowest marks in history, loss of thousands of dollars in crops is feared.

West Chester borough reported the most acute situation. In a special meeting of the municipal council last night it was learned that the water supply would last less than a week. Orders were issued to prosecute anyone found wasting water.

The lower anthracite field has been seriously affected. The town of Gordon in Schuylkill county a week ago was given an emergency line connection after residents were

Retired Street Cleaner Becomes Lender To City

Holyoke, Mass., Accepts Loan
Of $10,000 From Retired
Aged Street Cleaner

(International News Service)
HOLYOKE, Mass., Sept. 22.—A retired street cleaner today came to the assistance of a financially entangled city.

John McElligott, 60, who was retired five years ago from the street cleaning department, presented the city with a loan of $10,000 in anticipation of taxes at 6 per cent interest with which to meet city payrolls.

McElligott saved this sum from $24.05 a week over a thirty year period.

Arthur Mometer

If I had a basket of shekels, a million or two more or less, there's plenty of things I would hanker to do, some more or less foolish I guess. And one of the things I would probably do would be build me a house near the creek, where the rumble of traffic is scarce ever heard, not more than two cars in a week. Where the owls and the katydids lull me to sleep, and the rain patters down on the roof, and you wake to a world that is peaceful and bright, ah me, maybe I'm just a goof, but some day I repeat when I gather the dough, we'll be building a house far away from the roar of the street and the din of the town, just seventy eight today.

DRUMM-BRENNER NUPTIALS TODAY

The Epworth Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of a lovely wedding today when Miss Helen E. Drumm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Drumm of Superior street, became the bride of the Rev. Scott P. Brenner.

The nuptials were read at 11 o'clock by the Dr. Samuel Maxwell, pastor.

The bride was lovely in a fall gown of navy blue crepe with accessories to match and wore a shoulder corsage of tea roses. Mrs. Leon Drumm, chosen as her attendant, was attired in a wine colored crepe dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was made up of roses.

The wedding party entered to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding Chorus, with Miss Margaret Cowan Kameron presiding at the organ. During the ceremony she played softly "At Dawning".

Immediately after the reading of the nuptials a congratulatory period was held, and following a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Covers were laid for members of the immediate family at a table beautifully decorated in tones of pink and white, the center being graced with a large tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Those serving were Mrs. Maude Montgomery, Mrs. Flora Sowash and Mrs. Joseph Hammond.

Mrs. Brenner is a graduate of the New Castle senior high school and Geneva College. For the past few years she has been a teacher in the Mahoning school of this city.

Mr. Brenner is the son of Mrs. Catherine Brenner. He is a graduate of Ursinus College and the Theological Seminary of Lancaster, Pa. At present he is pastor of the Reformed parish in Schwenkville.

Later in the day the young couple left by motor for an extended eastern trip and will be at home to their friends after October 3 at Schwenkville.

O. F. B. Club Guests

The O. F. B. Club members enjoyed their usual social session at the home of Mrs. Roy Cummings on Ray street, with Mrs. Howard Barge and Mrs. Nelson McCluskey being winners in the bingo game, the chief pastime. After a period of sociability, the guests were served a tasty lunch by the hostess assisted by Mrs. S. B. Wilson.

On October 3 the club will gather at the residence of Mrs. Louis Ziegler, Leasure avenue.

HOSPITAL SEWING GROUP INCREASED

The interest in the sewing of articles on Wednesday mornings for the Jameson Memorial hospital needs is steadily increasing, inasmuch as the women, including associates of the Current Events Club of '23 and others in the city who so graciously responded yesterday outnumbered previous gatherings of this nature at the institution.

A large amount of work was accomplished at this meeting, and cutters for the occasion were Mrs. Robert White and Mrs. O. P. Brown.

There will be another session on Wednesday of the coming week, the hours from 9 until 12 o'clock to be observed. Mrs. Roy Jamison and Mrs. Fred Sontum are scheduled as cutters on this date.

It is hoped this splendid record will be continued, and the current club members of 1932 who are in charge during this month, urge women in the city to make a special effort to participate as often as possible, at these meetings.

ALARMING SLUMP IN REGISTRATION

STATISTICS gathered by News reporters from the registration officials of the city at the close of the second day's registration, show an alarming slump in the number of voters registered.

The total registered with two of the three days for this purpose concluded, is slightly under 6,000, while the possible eligible voters of the city probably run around 15,000 if all qualify.

Hence, it will be seen there has been an unusual lethargy on the part of the citizens of New Castle.

Every citizen must remember this fact—he must be registered properly in order to vote in November.

We are of the opinion that a large reason for the slump in registration has been due to procrastination; putting off this important duty of citizenship because there was still another chance—a third registration day.

There is one more chance, October 8, it is conceded, but it is our belief that some extensive work should be done before that time in order to bring out the largest registration possible.

Certainly there is no lack of incentive to vote. It is presidential year, and there is more than ever desirable a full expression of the voice of the electorate. In addition national and state offices are to be filled.

Civic organizations, women's clubs, and organizations of every kind interested in good citizenship should lend emphasis to this matter of registration in the next week or so, so that an impressive registration will result on October 8.

The non voter is usually the loudest critic of officials and conditions.

DISMAL OUTLOOK FOR "JIMMIE" WALKER

The whirlwind of time does strange things in the field of politics. The day before "Jimmie" Walker decided to quit his job as Mayor of New York his admirers were jubilantly saying that if he resigned he would immediately declare himself a candidate and would be re-elected by an overwhelming majority. Many persons really believed this; they were confident that, no matter what charges might be made against him, he would be vindicated at the polls.

How times have changed in a few short weeks! Mayor McKee, who automatically succeeded to the mayoralty, is winning praise on all sides by his competent and economical administration of the city since Mr. Walker quit, but instead the prosaic, yet important, duties of the office are being regularly performed with surprising efficiency. The question being discussed is the election for the succession, and who the candidate will be. Shall it be McKee or someone else? Various names are mentioned, but the name of James J. Walker is not among them. In the meantime "Jimmie" is in Italy taking a much-needed rest. He is reported to be talking of prolonging his vacation, and no one is objecting.

William Travers Jerome, once a powerful fighter against machine politics, speaking of the possibility of reform in New York City affairs, declares that dire economic pressure is the only reformer. "When the people," he says, "get wise to the fact that they are getting only about 40 cents on the dollar for what they are paying in taxes, that will ruin Tammany—at least temporarily." He insists that there is no remedy in legislation or systems for dishonesty unless the people of the community are altruistic and intelligent and upright enough to discharge their duties as citizens. "Otherwise," concludes this one-time fighter, "we'll continue to get just about what we deserve and just about what we've been getting in municipal affairs."

Mr. Jerome is correct. What he says applies just as truly to other communities as it does to New York City.

MR. ROOSEVELT CHALLENGED TO TAKE A STAND

Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate for president, is by no means in sympathy with all the ideas of President Hoover, and he is assuredly not in harmony with the Republican platform, but he does give him credit for having a definite program of a constructive character. Mr. Thomas asserts that Governor Roosevelt is utterly lacking in this respect. "No one living," he says, "knows what Mr. Roosevelt's program is—not even Mr. Roosevelt himself."

At a meeting in New York City, called for the purpose of ratifying his own nomination for the presidency, Mr. Thomas challenged the Democratic candidate to take a stand on the issues now before the American people. He declared that Mr. Roosevelt had been vague in expressing himself on anything, and particularly so on such matters as war debts, the banking system, agriculture, unemployment, public utilities and Tammany Hall. He said further that in foreign affairs Mr. Roosevelt's mentor was Mr. Hearst, at whose behest he blithely and frivolously denounced the League of Nations for which he campaigned in 1920. If the Democratic candidate was right twelve years ago, he must be wrong now. Will he be good enough to explain to the people when he was right and when he was wrong?

We are sure that he will not attempt to do any such thing. In the meantime it is instructive to know that the Socialists are unable to see anything progressive in his speeches and find it necessary to chide him for his failure to make himself understood.

Speaking of horse trades, a Louisiana girl has traded two oxen for a sheepskin.

Early frosts stunted Idaho potatoes. Now perhaps a kitchenette oven can get around one.

If it is essential that Rudy croon in his own love nest to hold his wife we will make the sacrifice.

The new mayor of New York has made a big slash in city salaries which is no way to make Tammany feel good.

If political eclipses could be made of as short duration as an eclipse of the sun, wouldn't it make a lot of ex-politicians happy?

Maybe Germany's idea of disarmament is to give every nation an equal number of men and weapons and then let them try to disarm one another.

Governor Roosevelt says that, if he is elected president he will be in position to help the forgotten men. And of course, if he is defeated, he can join 'em.

Are You a Good Winner?
Are You a Good Loser?
Winning Is More Fun

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Are you a good loser? Certainly you are. . . . When you lose you smile and you admit your mistakes and you praise your conqueror. You tell him you'll get your revenge some other day and hope he'll give you another chance. You say you really don't mind losing?

Then something is wrong, and you'd better have yourself examined. Or you look yourself over to see what's missing. . . . Because something surely is. Because you ought to mind losing. Because you ought to want to win.

If you don't, then why do you play, why do you work, why do you struggle? Much better sit and twiddle your thumbs. Much better snooze. Much better snore. . . . Don't waste your time in any competition if you do not mind losing, if you care more or less keenly about winning.

Somehow or other, the lad who is usually called "a poor loser," who growls and yowls when he loses a competition, is, in his way, more appealing than his friend who smiles sweetly and really doesn't care when he loses. That first fellow, at least had his heart in the game, and that's something. He was involved, he was keenly alive.

Please, I'm not saying any kind words for the hard loser who kicks and bites and breaks the rules of sportsmanship in any of life's activities in order to win—in sport, business or other human relationships. That's different. That's putting victory above character.

But I mean that the man or woman or child who deeply and impersonally, almost, wants to win any endeavor upon which their abilities are set, is, 99 times out of 100, a finer human being than the one who doesn't care.

You know the old story about the man in the restaurant who ordered a crab, and observed, when it arrived, that one of the big claws was missing. He mentioned it, and the waiter explained that the crab had lost that claw in a fight. So the man handed it back and said, "Bring me the winner!"

I'll take the winner, too. I want both the winner and the loser to show courage, fineness, tenacity, brains and character, and I'd like the loser to lose gracefully—with a gleam in his eye. . . . But if it's all the same to you, I'll take the winner. And I wouldn't mind being the winner either. . . . For winning is more fun than losing.

ENTHUSIASTIC STARTERS.

Are you an energetic and enthusiastic starter, and that is as far as it goes? You give yourself too much credit for the plans you evolve?

You seek to communicate to others the interest you have in certain projects with the hope that they may carry on the uninteresting work in "finishing."

You are gracefully absent when the real labor is required.

Your interest wanes with the expending of mental or physical effort.

There is too much hard work to carry a thing through to success.

For this reason it is not improbable that you have failed many times in many undertakings which might have brought you valuable results if you had been energetic and persevering enough.

But after the first flush of success or interest something new becomes alluring and you cool off to the extent of becoming inactive.

Few things gain momentum unless guided by the energy and planning skill of some hard working person.

If you would start fewer things and give your best to completing what you inaugurate you would have fewer failures.

Be a strong finisher as well as an enthusiastic starter.

CIRCUS MEMORIES.

Oh, never comes the circus with its wonder's into town. But I recall a little boy who longed to be a clown.

And high above the heads of all an acrobat I see.

That little lad of long ago was hopeful he would be.

No care had he for words that rhyme. A more entrancing thing

Was jumping on and off a horse within a savdust ring.

And all the verses ever penned he'd gladly trade back then

To be the spangled hero in the roaring lion's den.

There was a riding lady in a fluffy skirt of pink

Who might have lured this little boy away from printer's ink.

But destiny or fortune or the fates (or was it dad?)

Convinced to change the life-work of this circus dreaming lad.

He would not now retrace his steps. Through eyes now growing dim

He sees an acrobat's career would not have done for him.

But still when bands are playing and the circus barkers shout

A little boy of fifty-one walks wide-eyed round about.

Sympathy For Bonus Army Linked With Issues Involved

Sharp Debate On Use Of Military Force Follows Attorney General's Report And Action Of American Legion Convention On Bonus Payment

The report of Attorney General Mitchell on the eviction of the bonus army from Washington and the action of the American Legion convention in favor of immediate payment of a cash bonus, brings the whole question of veterans' legislation to the fore. The merits of the march on Washington, the attitude of the local and national authorities toward these marchers and the use of the regular Army to drive them out of the Capital are coupled with the question of the rights of the veterans to a cash bonus and the economic results likely to follow should such an expenditure be placed upon the federal treasury. The major criticism of the Attorney General's report is based upon its characterization of the personnel of the bonus army, while the demand of the American Legion for the bonus is met with a sentiment strongly unfavorable to such a payment at this time.

Discussing the riots in Washington, the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR (Rep.) says: "It was only a question of time until such a situation resolved itself into an elemental issue of law and order on one side and anarchy and revolution on the other." The HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.), while holding that the selecting of Legion week for the issuance of the statement was "quite certain to add to the President's troubles," believes "the course taken by Mr. Hoover in dealing with the bonus army seemed to be wholly dignified and correct, requiring no apology." The TIMES adds that "patience was shown toward an essentially lawless element and an un-American enterprise." The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.) feels that "the men who got up the movement, while their intentions might have been the best, should have realized that such a march was an attack on good government." The PORT HURON TIMES HERALD (Ind.) emphasizes the controversy over the part played by the communists, concluding: "Their success in creating trouble will long provide grounds for the unfortunate suspicion in the minds of many people that the whole business was not on the square."

Enumerating blunders that it sees in "ex-servicemen's experience to date," the PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM (Ind. Dem.) declares: "The poorest blunder of the collection was the one which grew into a copy of the Coxey Army debacle, that became known as the Bonus Expeditionary Force. The climax of blundering arrived with the 'march' of the 'bonus' army in front of Washington, which came to pass with the order to the Army and Marine Corps to bring tanks, bayonets, gas and cavalry into action against a collection of wholly inoffensive though probably misguided individuals." As to bonus legislation, the paper holds that "there never has been a spirit of patriotism contained within any provision for undeserved pensions." The SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE (Ind. Rep.) avers that "the Attorney General's statement has the merit of bringing out from the President a clear declaration that the list of bad characters should not be taken to reflect upon the many thousands of honest, law-abiding men who went to Washington."

"It is unfortunate," thinks the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES (Ind.), "that fear, necessity or political strategy led the Administration to use the regular Army in forcing the bonus marchers out of Washington." That paper adds, however, that "no amount of sympathy for men ejected by force from their humble hovels should blind the nation's leaders to the real danger of the bonus payment at this time." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS (Ind.) concludes: "Public opinion does not seem to support the veterans in any demand for the immediate payment of the bonus. The debate at present seems to be centering more upon the personnel of the bonus army and the manner of its expulsion than upon the bonus itself." The SIOUX FALLS ARGUS-LEADER (Ind. Rep.) sees "conviction that the government acted wisely in the bonus incident," and contends that "it is extremely unfortunate that political expediency has been allowed to cause distortion in so critical a case."

That the action of the government was dictated by common sense is the belief of the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT (Ind. Rep.) and the GOSHEN NEWS-TIMES (Rep.), while the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS (Ind.) offers the judgment: "Mistakes may have been made in the method of their expulsion, as it was also a terrible mistake for them to march down on Washington with the hope that a great army would overawe Congress with its presence. But political friend and political foe of the President must acknowledge that, in this extremely delicate situation, he did what he conscientiously felt was the only thing that could be done under the circumstances." Similar approval is given by the OSHKOSH DAILY NORTH-WESTERN (Rep.) and the MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.).

Expressing the hope that "the marches on Washington are a thing of the past," the EVENING STAR of that city (Ind.) declares: "The amazing revelation of the percentage of men convicted of offenses that pretty well represent every crime on the calendar, and the facts upon which are based estimates of the number of non-veterans drawn to Washington, are, even at this late date and in retrospect, startling things to consider." Pointing to the danger of the bonus payment, with its "inflation of the currency through the printing press," The Star suggests: "The question now is whether the Legion, in asking for the bonus at this time, has not placed itself in the position of Aesop's dog, which, beguiled by its image, dropped the meat from its jaws in order to get that which was so enticingly reflected from the water."

Asserting that the camps were a menace to the health and safety of Washington, the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.) says: "The judgment of unprejudiced American opinion will be that the President did a duty and action was taken, not against a body of service men seeking the payment of the bonus, but against a mob dominated and largely composed of men, foreign to the ideals of patriotic service, who had seized a righteous cause and were abusing its right and privilege for the purpose of fostering discontent and the spirit of revolt." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS (Ind.) also attests the public belief that there existed "menace to public peace and order."

THE HIGHWAY DOLLAR

The great benefits of road building to employment and general purchasing power are indicated by the fact that of every dollar spent in constructing a concrete pavement, ninety-one cents is paid to labor.

Highway authorities have calculated that the distribution of $1,000 paid to contractors for concrete road building is as follows: $141 for direct labor, $44.70 for miscellaneous labor, $675 to mills and quarries and $139.30 for transportation and equipment, etc., with labor receiving $734.30 of the latter two expenditures, or grand total of $910.

Attention Called To Laws Whereby Blind May Be Aided In Forthcoming Elections

By WM. NELSON CROMWELL, Philanthropist, Lawyer and President of the American Braille Press

Among the 114,000 blind persons in the United States, there are thousands of intelligent men and women who are interested in the world around them and its modern problems, separated by a wall of darkness but not by lack of understanding. Many of them, naturally, desire to cast their ballots in the forthcoming presidential election,

Educators Will Assemble Here On September 29

Will Form Mid-Western Section Of State Educational Association

Educational men and women from Beaver, Mercer, Butler, Armstrong, Clarion and Jefferson counties will meet in New Castle Thursday evening, September 29, at 6 o'clock when the final work of organizing the mid-western section of the Pennsylvania State Educational association will be completed.

The executive council of the Pennsylvania State Educational association recently authorized the formation of the mid-western section and it now becomes the duty of the section to complete its organization, name the city wherein the meetings will be held and attend to other business matters.

No decision has been reached as yet on the city, but New Castle offers admirable facilities for such meetings. With plenty of auditorium space, hotel space and a location that is central in the section, the claim of New Castle as the meeting place will be stressed.

The mid-western section would hold an annual conference which would attract several thousand educators. In reality the sectional conference is a small edition of the P. S. E. A. convention. This was held in New Castle in 1929 and attracted some 6000 people here.

In past years New Castle has been a member of the western section which met in Pittsburgh. It was so large that the counties mentioned above felt they should have a section of their own. Nationally known speakers will be engaged to address the meetings, and the organization of the section will mean much for the educators of these counties.

New Castle will be represented at the meeting on September 29 by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent, principals of the schools and heads of departments.

Gigantic Alien Smuggling Ring Is Discovered

Secretary Of Labor Doak Reveals Gigantic Ring Operates In Southern States

CAPT. LANCASTER ONE OF SUSPECTS

By PAUL C. YATES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1932, By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Existence of a gigantic alien smuggling ring with bases of operation in southern coastal regions and connections in many interior cities was revealed Wednesday by Secretary of Labor William N. Doak.

Warfare against the ring has been under investigation by the labor department for more than a year. Numerous arrests have been made. "The department has evidence linking Capt. William Lancaster, British flier, and Mrs. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, with alien smuggling activities from the Florida base," the cabinet member asserted.

Use Planes-Boats
At the same time, it was revealed that Lancaster is in Washington to confer with labor department officials regarding deportation proceedings against him and Mrs. Keith-Miller.

"Airplanes, fast boats and ultra-modern methods generally were used by the smuggling ring," Doak explained.

"Foreigners were smuggled into Florida, Texas, California and other southern bases and thence to interior points as far north as Ohio and Illinois.

"They were brought into the country from Cuba, Haiti, and other West Indian points, from Mexico and Central America.

Hard To Break Up
"The ring has proved to be uncommonly hard to break up. We have traced some of its members from one state to another, making an arrest now and then. But whenever we grab one member, others scatter like a flock of quail.

"We have located several members in penitentiaries over the country. They were sent up for other crimes. Elaborate precautions against discovery of their activities were taken by the smuggling gang. These included the use of wireless code messages and spy systems at landing bases.

Many of the aliens arriving by plane were landed at isolated private fields where little air traffic existed, department of labor officials asserted. Some were landed in grassy pastures within striking distance of coastal cities. An "underground railroad" was used to work the aliens into the interior, with designated hideouts along the line.

May Deport Fliers
Concerning the Lancaster and Keith-Miller angle, Doak declared: "We have not decided yet whether to bring Captain Lancaster and Mrs. Miller to trial or whether to deport them and let this angle of the case drop."

Evidence implicating the two fliers in alleged alien smuggling activities was forwarded by the labor department to Florida authorities in connection with Lancaster's trial and acquittal for the murder of Hayden Clark, youthful writer, Doak stated. "This evidence was never used," he added.

"Some of the evidence in this smuggling ring is the most terrible I have ever seen. Parts of it are not fit to print. I have a stack of papers a foot high dealing with the many angles to the case.

"Our department has broken the backbone of the ring. But there are details which we feel it best not to reveal pending the making of additional arrests.

"Several persons were jailed in Florida recently in connection with the ring's activities."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Canning Gets Real Momentum On Opening Day

Men As Well As Women Take Part In Vast Canning Project Yesterday

One of the surprises of a reporter's visit to the Mahoningtown headquarters for the co-operative canning project yesterday was to find men demonstrating truly expert ability in cooking and canning. Any vague doubts as to men's usefulness in the kitchen were dispelled immediately.

Upstairs in the Mahoning school annex The News representative found a group of twenty-five people diligently at work over the large kettles of hot, delicious looking peaches. Five or more of the workers were men. They were stirring, paring, pouring and making themselves generally useful.

In another room nearby the results of the day's labor were located. Quart tin cans, neatly sealed with wax, were sitting side-by-side, row on row.

Four hundred fifty cans, according to Mrs. Charles Burkart and Mrs. Allen Ingals, supervisors, were ready at 2:20 p. m. This number was increased considerably before the day came to a close.

Mrs. Burkart and Mrs. Ongals were kept constantly busy answering questions, demonstrating how the canning should be done, directing the workers, etc. They did it efficiently and untiringly.

More supplies from the mayors relief committee kept arriving on trucks all day. Eighty-five bushels of fruit were soon piled up everywhere there was room—in the school basement, annex hall, upstairs rooms.

And the work is continuing today—and tomorrow and Saturday. It is a long hard job but the workers are pleased and willing to be able to help themselves.

Man Known Here Accident Victim

"Ross" Leonard, a former employee of the Pennsylvania railroad, and part time resident of the Seventh ward, is being treated in a Detroit, Michigan, hospital for serious injuries received in an automobile accident, acquaintances in this city, learn.

Leonard has a fractured skull and possible internal injuries. His automobile was completely wrecked. Details of the accident were not received here.

Mrs. Sara Jane Robinson, of Toledo, O., formerly of New Castle, is a sister of the injured man.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 22.—Two British youths, William Crooks, 17, and Stanley Flanagan, 18, were safe today after an adventurous escape from the French Foreign Legion at Sidi Bel Abbas in Algeria.

Disguised as Arabs, they left the garrison on Sept. 11, and found their way to the coast in a motor truck. They then stowed away aboard the steamer Almoor.

Later, discovering the Almoor was bound for French soil, they jumped overboard near Gibraltar, using life preservers bound together with rope.

They drifted for hours before the British steamer Glenashane sighted them and picked them up, bringing them here.

The British consul at The Hague said he would send them home.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Itching, bleeding or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back, if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr. J. S. Leonard discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in over 500 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee they will end your Pile misery or money back.

Gov. Roosevelt Enters California

Democratic Candidate Enters Home State of President Hoover

MAKES ATTACK ON "POWER INTERESTS"

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ENROUTE TO SAN FRANCISCO ON THE ROOSEVELT SPECIAL, Sept. 22—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt invaded the home state of President Hoover today with the most vigorous challenge that he has yet flung down to his Republican opponent.

The Roosevelt challenge was on the power issue. For the first time on his western tour, the Democratic nominee took off his oratorical gloves at Portland last night and hit hard at Mr. Hoover and his policies.

He portrayed Mr. Hoover as the servant of the private power interests. His policy with regard to the Federal Power commission, his veto of several Muscle Shoals bills and his "closing the White House doors to the public interest in the St. Lawrence project" all demonstrated, Gov. Roosevelt charged, "that the Republican policy is dominated by private rather than public interest."

Assaults Insull.
For his own part, Gov. Roosevelt vigorously assailed "the Insull monstrosity" and its ilk, and advocated a policy of strict federal regulation of interstate power, of holding companies and of "pitiless publicity" for all details of public utility operation and ownership.

And in a dramatic conclusion to his speech, he took cognizance of the charge of "radicalism" which has been laid against him in some quarters.

"To the people of this country," said Roosevelt, "I have but one answer on this subject.

"Judge me by the enemies I have made."

After long applause, he added: "Judge me by the selfish purpose of these utility leaders who have talked of radicalism while they were selling watered stock to the people and using the schools to deceive the coming generation."

"My policy is as radical as American liberty, as radical as the constitution of the United States."

And then after more applause he said: "Never shall the federal government part with its sovereignty and control over its power while I am president of the United States."

Retain Private Initiative.
As a broad general policy, the Democratic nominee said he believed that power development should remain for private initiative and private capital but only under strict regulation in the public interest. And also with "a birch rod" of public ownership and public operation kept in the closet.

Gov. Roosevelt left the northwest country well satisfied with the outlook. His reception in Washington was tumultuous; in Oregon it was much less so, but Portland is known for its reserve.

the assurances of Washington leaders that he would carry that state by a large margin in November.

The Democrats are hopeful of carrying Oregon, but the more conservative are disposed to describe the state as merely doubtful. Oregon, unlike its sister state of Washington, is fastened more securely to Republican moorings. At that, it is considered not unlikely that Oregon will send two Democratic congressmen to Washington in November, as against the one it now has there.

The state's principal industries—lumber and agriculture—are in a bad way. Economic distress is widespread. Canadian tariff retaliation has struck a severe blow at fruit exports. Prices of fruit and vegetables in Oregon and Washington are almost unbelievably low. All of which makes for political unrest.

Gov. Roosevelt crossed into California this morning for four days of intensive campaigning in Mr. Hoover's state. Before he leaves California Sunday he will have traversed the state from north to south making a number of speeches.

Tabernacle Full Wednesday Night

Baptists, Lutherans And Colored Churches To Be Special Guests Tonight

SPECIAL MUSICAL NUMBERS TONIGHT

Leader Enthuses Over Work Of His Immense Chorus Choir In Meeting

This evening the Baptists, Lutherans and colored congregations of the city will occupy the center block of seats at the tabernacle tent, South Mill street.

Dr. P. W. Philpott will have as his topic this evening "The Man Who Won and Lost."

Wednesday evening the Presbyterians and Reformed Presbyterians turned out en masse and filled the center block of seats in the tabernacle on South Mill street, where nightly city-wide revival services are being held. The audience was the largest since the overflow meeting Sunday evening, only a few seats being unfilled.

The choir, under A. W. McKee's leadership, sang "Sail On" and "Sing His Praise." Each evening the audience sits enraptured while this wonderful chorus of 600 voices sing out praises to God. Mr. McKee, in speaking of the group, says it is the most marvelous choir he has had in his many years of directing large choruses.

Faith for the Family.

Dr. Philpott, evangelist, took as his text Wednesday night Hebrew 11:7. "By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; and he saved his family." He stated that the greatest heritage a father can leave his family is an example of Godly life.

He stated that Noah believed God and had faith and he had the joy of seeing his family all come in to the ark and the faith and it is the same today, if the city, the state and the nation put trust and faith in God then all the loved ones will be saved.

The evangelist is handicapped by a slight cold.

This evening Dr. Philpott will speak on "The Man Who Won and Lost" and the Baptists, Lutherans and colored churches will be special guests. The choirs of the colored churches will have some special musical numbers.

State Convention in Harrisburg Is Reported As Constructive Session

T. E. Chambers, L. C. John and Ray F. Hall, representing the New Castle Auto Dealers Association, have returned from Harrisburg, where they attended the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, sessions of which were held on Monday and Tuesday.

Every session was one of an interesting and constructive nature, some of the ablest speakers in the country addressing the organization, such as Thomas Beck, editor of the Chrysler Corporation; Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce; Leon Banigan, editor of Motor World; Herbert Buckman, manager of the Cleveland Auto Manufacturers and Dealers Association; and Edward Payton, market analyst of Cleveland.

HEAD OF CABBAGE

TIPS SCALES AT TWELVE AND HALF

A head of cabbage tipping the scales at 12 1/2 pounds couldn't very well be entered in any featherweight or middleweight cabbage contest. If a kettle could be found large enough to hold it, such a head could produce enough cold slaw or sauerkraut to feed a family of fourteen starving Armenians.

On display at The News today is this champion in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hughes, of 64 South Lee avenue. And what a cabbage!

EXONERATE DRIVER OF CAR IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Free Howell Of Blame In Death Of John Bryson

Coroner's Jury Finds No Evidence Of Wilful Negligence In Motor Accident

JOINT HEARING AND INQUEST IS HELD

taken into custody in Bellevue at an early hour Sunday morning by Bellevue police, who were attracted by Howell's appearance. He explained that he had no logical reason for leaving the scene of the accident, except that he just had an impulse to get away when he learned that his brother-in-law was probably dead, and later when he found he was on the road to Pittsburgh, wanted to see his mother.

Corporal L. J. Lawton of the State Highway patrol was the first witness called by Coroner Orville Potter. He told of going to the accident scene and finding the wrecked car had been moved from the position it was in after the accident. He said it had been lying off the road six or seven feet, in a corn patch, and had gone off the road and across a ditch, a distance of about 30 feet before it had brought up on its side.

He said that Mr. Howell, the driver was not around and could not be located but that early the next morning he was informed that he had been taken into custody by Bellevue police and they went down and brought him back to New Castle.

He said he asked Howell if he had been drinking, and that he replied that he had not been prior to the accident, but had taken a drink early in the afternoon.

He placed the time of the accident at around 9:30. He said Howell had told him that the road was quiet and that he had been thrown off the road and had gone into the ditch.

He said Howell told him that after the car had been lifted off the body of his brother-in-law, that he had heard someone remark that Bryson was done for and he sort of lost his head and wandered away from the accident scene.

Car Passed Ferry
Lawrence Perry of Morris street, South New Castle Borough, stated that he had been at the home of his brother, W. E. Perry, in company with Edward Burns, and was going home when a car passed them, that was going at a high rate of speed.

He said that this car was coming at a high rate of speed and that they had better step off the road, which they did.

There was nothing unusual about the way the car was being operated, Mr. Perry stated, excepting that it seemed to be going too fast.

In a few minutes they heard a bump and rushing up to the place, found that the car was off the road and lying on its side. He was unable to lift the car, and called for help. After a short time, neighbors came and they lifted the machine and got the man out from beneath it. He said he saw that he was in bad shape and should be taken to hospital, and along with several others helped place him in the machine to take him into the city.

When he first came upon the scene, he said he heard Howell exclaim that the man was his brother-in-law, and to help get the car off him.

Doctor Popp Testifies
Dr. J. M. Popp testifies to examining Bryson at the New Castle hospital on his arrival there Saturday evening and found that he was dead.

He had received a fractured left jaw, fracture at the base of the skull, and was bleeding from the ears. There was wound over the left eye and extending back along the head, and evidence that his neck had been dislocated and had returned to position. If the spinal cord had been injured, it would be sufficient to cause death immediately, but if it was a fracture at the base of the brain, the recipient of such injuries generally lives for some little time. In his opinion, the combination of injuries received, caused death.

Edward Burns of 620 West Washington street, who was with his uncle, Mr. Perry, told practically the same story as Mr. Perry.

He said he had driven a car, however, and estimated that Howell must have been going more than sixty miles an hour. After it had passed, he said he started to hurry after it, as he figured there was going to be an accident. When he heard the crash, he said he started to run. He stopped cars which were coming along the road and asked the occupants to help lift the machine from Bryson's body, and helped to take him to the hospital.

Miss Edythe Booher, who was riding in a machine with Mr. Agan, told of being stopped and of the two Agan brothers who were in the car with her, getting out and helping to lift the machine.

Called By Howell
Charles McCandless, who resides about 200 feet from the scene of the accident, told of Mr. Howell coming to his door and stating that there was an accident and asking him to come and help. He told of the condition of the machine, and of seeing Mr. Bryson lying beneath the car. His foot seemed wedged underneath the car, and his head was covered with blood. He helped lift the machine from Bryson's body and assisted in putting him in the other car.

Lewis Slater, who also resides nearby told a similar story. He said he had heard the car going past and remarked to his wife at the time that it seemed to be going very fast.

He heard the crash when the car left the road and on going out, found it lying on its right side, pointing in the opposite direction from which it came. He said he was under the impression that there was only one man in the car.

Howell, who had no counsel, asked Slater if he did not remember of someone getting into the car and releasing Bryson's foot, in an effort to get him out. He replied that he hadn't.

Gomer and James Agan, brothers, of 458 Crofton avenue, testified that they had been driving along the road with Miss Booher and of being stopped and asked to help. They gave assistance. Gomer Agan stated that he did not see anyone around that looked like the driver but heard a man say "It's my brother-in-law."

Miss Dorothy Weir, who was riding with Raymond Morgan and another young man named Walsh, told of their car being stopped and of them being asked to assist, and of afterwards taking Bryson to the hospital.

Howell Takes Stand
Mr. Howell then took the stand. He was advised by District Attorney John Powers that he need not testify if he didn't want to on account of the charge of involuntary manslaughter which had been placed against him, but stated that he wished to tell his side of the story.

He said he had been with his brother-in-law since around 2 o'clock in the afternoon. They were at Bryson's home together, and after pitching horseshoes, had had dinner, and then went down town to get some sparkplugs for Mr. Bryson's car. He met Jack Elmer and talked with him on a business matter and had also been to the home of Jack Valley, who is a cousin of Bryson's and had talked with members of the family there for some little time.

They then went out the Old Pittsburgh Road to see an acquaintance of Bryson's and when they got to the house where they figured they were going to find it dark and turned around to come back.

"I was probably driving a little too fast for that road, but don't think I was going over 35 miles an hour," Howell said.

"It seemed we passed another car and I pulled to the side of the road to avoid it. I hit a bump which threw me further to the side of the road and tried to right the car, but it jumped the ditch and overturned. I got out and called for help, and then went to a place, where there was just a little girl at home and she told me to go over to another house. When I got back, I stepped into the car and loosened Bryson's foot, which was caught between the glass and top of the car. After the car was righted, I heard a man say, 'I guess he's done for,' and then I went away. I walked until I came to a road which leads to Ellwood City as I believed as there was a sign which said 'To Ellwood City,' and picked up a ride.

Arrives In Bellevue
"I don't know how many rides I picked up. I wanted to go to Pittsburgh to my mother. When I got in Bellevue, I went into a grocery store where a man was cleaning up and asked to use his phone. I called up my mother and she said there was no one at home to drive the car and for me to come home on a street car. While I was waiting on the street car, a policeman came along and told me I had better go to the police station with him. They called New Castle and found Mr. Bryson was dead."

Mr. Howell was asked why he left the accident scene, and said he could give no logical reason, except that he just had a desire to go away from the place. "When I found I was out on the road I wanted to go home and see my mother," he explained.

Mr. Howell stated that he had not been drinking and could produce Mr. Elmer, Mr. Valley and others to attest to the fact that he was sober prior to the accident.

The case was given to the coroner's jury, who brought in a verdict as previously stated. The jury was composed of W. H. Reck, W. J. Isaac, John Connery, James Cooper, Addison Caruthers, and Charles E. Allen.

Alderman Marshall, after learning the verdict of the coroner's jury, discharged Howell for lack of evidence.

Hitch Hiking Burgess Of Prospect Planning For Another Jaunt

Interviewing a chap like Burgess James A. McGowan, the "Hitch Hiking Burgess of Prospect" is like trying to nail down a sunbeam, or seal a shadow against the wall. He's here and he's gone and there isn't much time in between Wednesday afternoon was one of those times when repertorial skill overcame Burgess McGowan's peregrinating proclivities and he was backed into a corner and interviewed.

Perhaps you know the Burgess. He is known from Prospect, Pa., his native habitat, to the Pacific Coast as the Hitch Hiking Burgess. All because he has an aversion to paying railroad fare and finds that motorists are more than willing to trade a ride for an earful of his homely philosophy. Not only is he the Burgess of Prospect, he is the political leader, a regular Huey Long if you please, and further in addition is the Sage of the township.

He's A Democrat
Burgess Jim is a Democrat and a boss in a three-to-one Republican town. Out in Prospect they don't hold it against him because he is a Democrat and he has been elected to two other offices, county auditor and jury commissioner.

Burgess McGowan comes from pioneer stock. In 1796 one of his grandfathers bought 600 acres from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the fancy price of 15 cents per acre, giving him 15 years to pay. The southern portion of Prospect is built on this tract. Burgess McGowan owns 60 acres of the original tract and has refused $300 an acre for it, for sentimental reasons.

In 1880 he cast his first vote for president, voting for General Hancock. He has registered as a Democrat ever since but proudly boasts that he votes as he pleases. He has called public sales for 48 years, and as a hog or cow caller there are few voices in Western Pennsylvania that have that pleasingly piercing quality

DEADLY SNAKES' BITE PERILS LIFE
GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 22.—Robert L. Walker, 27, single, Scotland, is seriously ill at the Latrobe hospital from effects of a snake bite. Walker, employed by the state highway department on the construction of the road between Youngstown and Stahlstown, stooped over to lift a large stone. A copperhead was coiled beneath and struck the middle finger of his left hand.

Walker became violently ill almost immediately and fainted before he could be taken to the hospital. Additional doses of anti-venom serum are being administered in an effort to combat the poison which spread through his body.

Mahatma Gandhi Growing Weaker

Fast Of More Than 48 Hours
Endured By Hindu
"Saint", Hope For Settlement

SIPS WATER TO KEEP UP SPIRIT

(International News Service)
POONA, Sept. 22.—Famished by his "fast unto death" which already has lasted more than 48 hours, Mahatma Gandhi lay on his cell cot in the Yeravda jail here today, grimly conserving his energies for his struggle.

The Mahatma took nothing but water, which he sipped at regular intervals.

May Be Settled.
Meanwhile, it appeared likely the political differences between the caste Hindus and the "untouchables" over the British electoral plan would be settled, thus enabling the starving "saint" to abandon his fast with two or three days.

Gandhi began the fast in protest against the British electoral plan providing separate representation for the "untouchables", holding their communal system would mean disaster to India.

Malaviya Rajah, high Hindu leader, issued a statement shortly after noon which said that Gandhi was becoming exhausted by his fast and urged the people to appeal to Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald to bring the communal matter to a settlement.

It was learned, meanwhile, that leaders of the caste and "untouchable" Hindus had not been able to reach an agreement yet, and would see Gandhi again during the afternoon.

GUM-DIPPED CORDS

The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD

Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

When we decided to make such a basic change in our business, we went to the bottom of this tire situation. We made a careful survey and comparison of all tires—and found that Firestone gives the motorist by far the greatest values.

Come in and make these comparisons yourself. We have actual sections cut from Firestone Tires, special brand mail order tires and others. See and demonstrate in your own hands the greater Firestone values. We were convinced—we know you will be. Firestone Extra Values Cost No More!

Fastest Heat For Three Year Old Colts In Five Meets Raced Here Wednesday

JOHN PETERKIN, EASTER DEAN WIN

Spirited Races Mark Card At Fair As Large Field Competes

Fastest heat trotted in five consecutive meets by three year old trotters was registered by Easter Dean, McCoy in the sulky, Wednesday at the New Castle track when the inaugural of a three days harness horse race meet was held. Easter Dean won the race in straight heats, the time for the first heat being clocked at 2:14½, second, 2:15½, and third 2:18½.

Approximately 1,500 disciples of paces and trots witnessed the three events, a 2:22 pace, divided into first and second divisions and the three year old trot. Harry Goll, starter got away from the wire without any difficulty and the entire race card was finished by four o'clock, daylight savings time. Patrons left the grandstand immensely pleased with the way the races were handled and raced.

First Race
In the first race which was Division 1 of the 2:22 pace, purse $150.00, Francis Dillon, Karns driving, proved the class of the field. She was out in front most of the time. Buzz Stout finished second in the first heat but Albert Mack won second place in the second heat and in the third heat, Martha Jane came from behind to beat out Bessie Hamilton for second in the third heat.

The time for the first heat of the first division, 2:22, was 2:10½ but a half second was cut off in the second heat. The third heat was slower, the winner of all three heats, Francis Dillon being clocked in 2:13½.

Second Race
Driver Moon didn't have to exert John Peterkin to win the second race, which was the second division of the 2:22 pace. Jessie Guy was close on John Peterkin's flank in the first race but Moon didn't need to exert his arms and John Peterkin took the heat in the time of 2:14. The field kept bunched in the second heat and at the five-eighths pole Jessie Guy with Morris driving appeared to be giving the bay gelding a fight. Coming down the home stretch John Peterkin started to step faster and won by his length in 2:12 which was two seconds faster than the first heat. He also won the third heat.

Easter Dean, Guy Putney and Jeneliese Dean were the class of the three year old trot, purse $100, added money event. The first two heats were raced in 2:14½ and 2:15½, said to be the fastest heats trotted by three year colts in five consecutive weeks of racing in this section.

Great Race
Guy Putney with Doc Dunkle in the buggy was giving Easter Dean a grand race in the first heat but broke at the third quarter. In the second heat Jeneliese Dean with Crawford Shoaf driving was in the same position at the half as she was in the first heat, third.

Coming down the home stretch Dunkle couldn't get any more speed out of Guy Putney and Easter Dean maintained her stride and won with Crawford Shoaf's bay filly winning third place. Guy Putney broke again in the third heat and Easter Dean, Jeneliese Dean and Alice Guy finished in order named. In the running race for ponies, distance 1½ mile, Clare Wagner won on a pony belonging to his father Earl Wagner, with Clyde Shoaff, Jr., riding his first race, finished second on Mr. Marshall's pony. The judges were Alexander, Kelly and Hartley and timers, Brinton, Borrow and Barber. Pat O'Brien was the clerk of course.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Although Johnny Datto knocked down Joe Marcus in the first and had Marcus stiffened against the ropes in the eighth at Pittsburgh last night, Marcus established a clear cut margin in the other rounds and received the decision. George Panaka stiffened Art Rodenbach in the first chapter.

Dizzy Dean turned in his 16th victory of the season Wednesday when Cincinnati lost to the Cardinals 2 to 0. Dean fanned five men and allowed only five hits.

Rogers Hornsby is the "forgotten man". When the Cubs voted on the division of their world series money he was completely ignored. Hornsby is to receive his $40,000 salary, it is reported.

Dave Llewellyn today announced that the time for the World war veterans boxing show is 8:15 p. m. eastern standard time Monday.

Hank Mills rode three winners at the race program at Aqueduct. He rode Euryalus, We Dun It and Sara Burden, all odds-on favorites.

Grove City Is Facing Tough Opening Game

Special To The News
GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 22—Convinced that his Grove City football squad faces one of its hardest tasks of the campaign in the opener with Greenville Teachers here Saturday, Coach Bill Amos bore down hard on his charges today, and promised to deal out liberal doses of work in the remaining sessions this week. The Grovers are showing up fairly well, but Amos is worried as he scans the record of last year's Greenville Club, and realizes that the same veterans will oppose his squad Saturday.

The Greenville team that W. & J. and West Virginia Wesleyan were extended to the limit to beat last fall will come to Grove City practically intact for the Crimson's opening game. It will test the Grover squad severely, for many of the gridders have had only a week of training in the new style of play inaugurated by Coach Amos.

With the resumption of college classes today, another dozen players reported to Coach Amos. None of the additions to the Grover squad appear likely to replace the veterans, at least until they have had several weeks of work. Amos seems settled on Alexander and Gross assured plenty of action in the relief role. Koma, Thomas and Deems are capable quarterbacks, with Thomas getting the call. Baylor and Koma will alternate at fullback. The line is fairly well set with Bache at center, Captain Larry Critchfield and George Poti at guard. Plance and McCoy at tackle and Beres and Tomko at end, with Soich a possible starter.

Pirates Take Second Money

Pirates Defeat Cubs And Assure Selves Of Taking Second Money

JIMMY FOXX HITS HOMER NUMBER 54

By LES KONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Jimmy Foxx, the big gunner of the Athletics who has been trying to beat Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers and also to capture the American League batting title, is likely to accomplish neither feat, it appeared today.

Jimmy hit his 54th circuit clout of the season as the A's downed the Yankees yesterday, 8 to 4, but faces the almost impossible task of connecting for six homers in four games to tie Ruth's mark.

Foxx Has Job.
Foxx got no other hits and relinquished the lead in the batting race to Dale Alexander of the Red Sox, who managed to pound out four hits while the Sox were losing both ends of a twin bill to Washington, 1 to 0 and 3 to 2. Alexander has a three-point edge on the Maryland farmer boy.

Alexander continued his heavy hitting against gilt-edge pitching. In the opener Dick Coffman, former Brownie held the Sox to five hits in winning his first game of the season for Washington.

"Sugar" Cain, a rookie, pitched the Mackmen to their win over the Yankees, yielding only seven hits. The Senators assured themselves of at least a tie for third place, as Cleveland lost to St. Louis, 4 to 3.

Pirates Win.
Pittsburgh clinched second place in the National League by trimming the Cubs again, 9 to 6, due to errors by rookies.

The Giants and Cardinals remained tied, second from the last in standings. New York nosed out the Braves in the tenth, 2 to 1, while "Dizzy" Dean hurled the Cards to a 2 to 0 shutout over Cincinnati, yielding only five hits.

The White Sox two-timed Detroit, 11 to 3 and 3 to 1. Ralph Kress had a field day with seven hits, including a homer and four doubles.

Three Fast Races At Fair Friday

Three Good Races Are Also Being Held This Afternoon

Harness horse race fans are getting plenty of action at the New Castle fair race track this week. Three fast race events are being staged each afternoon at one o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, and those staged on Wednesday were thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance.

Three more good races are being held this afternoon and on Friday afternoon, there will be three races by the cream of the nearly one hundred race horses at the speed barns of the association.

The racing events this year have been exceptionally fine and a record crowd is anticipated on Friday, when the final races of the present meeting are held.

PLAY CONSOLATION MATCHES AT MUNY
In the consolation matches played at the Municipal course for the club championship, two matches have been played so far, Mike Lombardo defeating Billy Schoenfeld, and C. C. McDermott winning from Bob Vogan.

Roy F. Preston and W. M. Nunn have been unable to get together yet for their semi-final match, for the right to play Bob Thompson of Ellwood City for the Municipal championship, and the club officials are hopeful that the match will be played off before Sunday so that the final match can be gotten through with on Sunday.

Joyce To Meet Veteran Boxer

Battlers Continue Training For World War Veterans Show

Youth and age will clash when Billy Joyce, New Castle, battles Frankie Stellmack, Cleveland, in the six round semi-final to the Willie Davies-Johnny Devlin feature battle Monday night at the bowl.

Joyce is a youngster who has been groomed by Jimmie Dime. He has fought several main bouts in Dayton and is said to show plenty of promise.

Stellmack, in his day, was a fair battler around Cleveland. He has odds of experience and he will aid him in the coming scrap with Joyce. They're lightweights.

Pee Wee Carney hails from Youngstown. He has not fought here. Pee Wee is docketed for action in a preliminary bout with Teddy Mancuso of Pittsburgh. They are training in their home town gyms.

Frankie Frey and Homer Gray continued to do roadwork and gymnasium exercise to fit them for their battle and Vito Mangine, localite is training hard to box Marty Toukamon, Cleveland.

Jim Buchanan is superintending the preparatory work of Willie Davies, cagey veteran who will meet Johnny Devlin, youthful aspirant of Portsmouth, O., for flyweight honors.

Ready To Start Church Series

St. Nicholas and St. Vitus church mushball teams are ready to start their five-game series for the Church League championship. The first two games will be played Saturday afternoon, probably at the B. & O. and Franklin Field. The managers of the two teams are asked to get in touch with Henry MacNicholas at the "Y" tonight, as it is very important.

Golf League Ends Season Tonight

Meeting Of Team Representatives Will Be Held In Muny Clubhouse

With the Rieck-McJunkin team determined to oust the Blair Strip Steel from leadership this evening, a battle royal will be staged on the Municipal golf course this evening as the final matches of the season are played.

Players are urged by the league management to be on hand promptly this evening so that all matches may be played before darkness interferes with play.

There will be a meeting of team representatives and the league officials immediately following play in the Municipal club house, when plans for a feed to wind up the season's activities will be held.

Crawford Shoaf Buys Jeneliese Dean

Crawford Shoaf yesterday purchased the three year old trotter Jeneliese Dean, a bay filly by Guy Dean. The purchase was made from the Mountour farm, Coraopolis but the price paid was not announced. Shoaf drove her in the three year old trot and finished third in the first two heats and second in the third. It was the first two heats of this race that the colts trotted the fastest time in five consecutive meets in which they raced this season.

St. Vitus Grid Team Training

St. Vitus grid team is being drilled daily by Coach DeCaprio. The practice sessions are held on Colonial field. A squad of 30 has turned out. Ross and Foster are the only veterans from last season's eleven. Ross is a fullback and Foster a center.

Scarazzo Plays Mahoning Today

Fourth Game Of County Series To Be Played On E. & A. Field

Scarazzo and Mahoning are awaiting the umpire's call to play ball at 5:30 p. m. D. S. T. today. It will be the fourth game of the seven-game series. Scarazzo has captured three consecutive games. The game will be played on the E. & A. field, seventh ward.

Should Scarazzos capture today's setto they will have won the series without Mahoning having won a game.

Friday, Mahoning will oppose the Polish Nationals on the E. & A. field.

Union Ready For Evans City Game

Union high school football team will trot out on Scotland Lane field Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to battle the strong Evans City high team imbued with a lot of confidence. Coach Boyd thinks that his team has improved 75 per cent since the opener with New Castle high. The lineup has been changed, and there is more power in the backfield. Phillips at fullback, Monico and Morrison at the halves, and Sniezek at quarterback, will go places, according to Boyd. The line has been strengthened by the addition of Buccia, Stockman and others and will be at its best Saturday.

CLOSE SEASON
Forest Midgets have closed their 1932 mushball season. They won 42, lost 13 and deadlocked in three games. They'll hold a banquet soon. V. Jacobson and Joe Cooper managed the team.

No wonder they won't let ball players bet on the ponies. We never could get to first base that way.

Old-fashioned motor oils—the kind you are using unless you have already changed to Essolube—can no longer do the job of properly lubricating the modern high-speed, high-compression motor. ★ Because, in the last ten years, motors have been stepped up over 22% in speed—over 50% in power—without any increase in size. This means tremendously increased wear on bearings and cylinder walls, tremendously increased wear on motor oils. ★ It means, too—if you are still using old-fashioned motor oils—you are short-changing your motor. ★ Why short-change your motor with an old-fashioned 2-star or 3-star oil, when you can fill up with 5-star quality Essolube—at the price of ordinary motor oils—25¢ per quart (plus tax). ★ Essolube is easy to get everywhere, at stations and dealers of: Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, Standard Oil Company, Incorpo-

High Gridders Are Ready For Battle

Coach Bridenbaugh Puts New Castle Team Through Some Hard Workouts

Scrimmage Brings Out Stellar Work Of Tackles And Ends On Wednesday

McKees Rocks will find a vastly improved New Castle football team Friday night at Taggart Field when they come here for a game under the floodlights. This is New Castle's second game on the tough 1932 program. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock, according to Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner.

If the McKees Rocks scouts could see that New Castle first team as they dug their cleats into the turf and upped the second team yesterday afternoon, they would be working overtime in getting ready for that contest scheduled for Pa. New's domain. With Nickum and Uram skirting the ends beautifully, and Kolodjeski and Kominic pounding the line, the second team was rather well exhausted. This young man Freddy Lane is going to give you a lot of thrills before the season is over.

Lane Is Fast
A replica of Eddie Tolan, the fleet footed Lane tears around the football arena like a track man doing the 100 yard dash, and he runs faster than that when he gets that pigskin tucked in his arms. For speed this New Castle team can't be touched. If the line just holds up, you are going to see a lot of classy football.

There were a lot of mistakes made in that Union game last Friday that you and you didn't see, but those trained optics of the popular Phil Bridenbaugh saw them. He has corrected the mistakes, and when the boys take the field Friday night, they will be up at the peak.

McKees Rocks will bring a fast team to New Castle to match the red and black jerseyed locals, and it should be a real football game all the way. The scouts report that New Castle will have a couple of tough looking backfield men to stop.

Many New Plays
Coach Bridenbaugh has given the New Castle team a lot of new plays this week, those tricky ones that would fool most anybody. New Castle's forward passing attack wasn't what it should have been against Union, but don't ever think that the "Old Fox" is sleeping because he knows when to use them. Bridenbaugh has been giving the backfield boys and ends a little secret drilling in the art of leather tossing and well, here we are telling you all about the game, and you want to see for yourselves.

Main Embankment On Pymatuning Dam Nears Completion

Work About To Start On Espeyville-Andover Road Across Lake

Work on filling the main embankment of the Pymatuning dam has been completed by the C. R. Cummins Company, it is stated today, and another piece of work on the project has been finished ahead of schedule. A highway will be built across the dam and for some time this will be gravel. Later it will be concreted.

The contractor who has been awarded the job of building the Espeyville-Andover highway has his machinery on the ground and is ready to commence operations. In the meantime the clearing of the timber and brush is going ahead at high speed and this will probably be completed by the end of the year.

Geneva College To Play Davis-Elkins

Beaver county football fans will get their first glimpse of Howard Harpster's latest Geneva college football edition on Friday evening at Reeves stadium at Beaver Falls against the Davis-Elkins Scarlet Hurricane. The combat acts as the inaugural grid affair for both institutions and in all likelihood will rank among the most important games of the season in the tri-state district.

Hot Weather Affects Westminster Squad

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 22.—Hot weather during the first part of the week has played havoc with Coach John Lawther's Westminster College football squad, eight players being on the sick list. All eight will be ready for drills Thursday, Trainer Jack Hulme reports.

As the Titans point for the first home game against Slippery Rock on Saturday afternoon, it looks as if the same team which started considerable attention throughout the day as the merchants of the city have taken it over and are exhibiting all kinds of household needs that will beautify the home or make things easier for the housewife. There are many excellent displays.

First Aid Center.
One of the centers of interest that is most helpful to the fair goers is the Red Cross first aid station. On both Tuesday and Wednesday it was visited by numerous people who felt the need of the assistance that could be obtained there.

The station is being maintained both during the day and for the evening. There is also an ambulance in reserve for any emergency that might arise.

Miss Kathryn Hite, Red Cross nurse, is in charge and has a group of nurses assisting her at all times. On Tuesday her assistants were Miss Gertrude Hoenstine and Miss Mary Bryan. Miss Grace G. Ackerman was on duty with Miss Hite on Wednesday.

Miss Gertrude Hoenstine, Miss Jeanne Ferguson and Miss Mary Bryan will assist on Thursday, while Miss Sara M. Burckart and Mrs. Frank Smith will assist on Friday.

Just across the way from the Red Cross first aid station is the large and commodious rest room maintained by the Lawrence county Pomona grange.

Judging Proceeds.
Judging in all kinds of exhibits was completed in many departments on Wednesday and all will be completed early today. Mr. McDougall of Grove City was judge of the Belgian, Percheron and grade horses on exhibit.

Many familiar names will be recognized among the winners in the various classes in this department. J. A. Stunkard had second in the two-year stud Percheron class. He also received first in the four-year aged mare class with Ed Wagner & Son taking second. In the aged class Percherons, Ed Wagner & Son took first in the three-year stud and first in the brood mare. Charles Zeigler of Rochester had first in the matched pair of grade horses, while Thomas Cooper took second in this class.

Edward Wagner & Son took first and second in the Percheron yearling class, while J. W. Anderson took first in the pure bred Percheron mare class. Paul Willaman of Transfer took first in the two-year Percheron stud class.

Wagner & Son took the grand champion prize in the Belgian class. They also had the champion Get a Sire in the Percheron class. Thomas Cooper took first in the Belgian stallion class and first in the three-year-old Belgian mare class. He also took first in the grade two-year-old, while Wagner & Son took first in Belgian colt and Cooper second.

Joseph Burton took first in grade mare class, Norman Miller first in heavy gelding aged class. Thomas Cooper first in the grade two-year-old, J. F. Miller second in aged draft class, Fred Gooze first in three-year class pure bred Belgians.

In the exhibits by the six colt clubs, J. W. Anderson took first honors, James Crawford second honors and Thomas Cooper third honors.

R. N. McDougall, farm agent in Butler county, was judge in the Jersey and Guernsey dairy cattle and completed his work during the afternoon. There were some excellent herds of these two types and close competition in some instances. J. C. McCandless of Butler was one of the outstanding winners in the Jersey class, taking first in aged bull, first in senior yearling heifer, first in junior bull, first in junior heifer, and five seconds in the various other classes.

Homer Slagelle of Poland, O., was also successful in winning a number of firsts in the Jersey class. He received first for two-year-old bull, first for yearling bull, first in three-year-old cow, first in two-year-old cow, first in junior yearling and three second prizes in various classifications.

S. S. Cleland of Portersville secured first in the aged cow class and three seconds. C. C. Clark of Mercer secured first in senior bull calf class and four seconds.

The awards in the Guernsey class were as follows: F. C. Fisher & Sons of Rose Point received first in aged cow, first in two-year-old cows, first in both senior and junior calf, first in the three-year-old cow, first in the junior yearling, first in produce of cow, first in breeders' young herd, first in get a shire and five seconds in various classifications.

Fair Acres Farm at Sewickley Heights also had a number of winners in the Guernsey class. His awards were first for yearling bull, first in two-year-old heifer, first in senior yearling heifer, first in junior calf, first in calf bred and five seconds in various classes.

W. T. McCoy of Mercer county was judge of the Shorthorns and Herefords. J. H. Withers and sons of Poland, O., won many prizes with his excellent showing of Shorthorns. They received first in aged bull, first in two-year-old bull, first in the yearling bull, first in aged cow, first in junior bull calf, first in two-year-old cow, first in two-year-old cow, first and second in senior yearling, first in junior yearling, first in senior heifer, first in junior heifer, first in produce cow herd, first in breeders' young herd, first in breeders' calf herd and first in get a sire.

There were two herds of Holsteins at the show, one being that of L. E. Lytle of Jackson Center. The two herds divided up honors that were awarded in fairly even proportions. F. A. Woods and Son of Pleasant Hill had the only herd of Aberdeen Angus cattle at the fair and received all the awards. The herd was exceptionally fine.

In Herefords Bert Thompson and Sons of West Sunbury, Pa., took many awards. Among the awards were first and second in aged cows, first in two-year-olds, first in yearlings, first in junior and senior heifer calves, first in junior and senior bull calves, first and second in produce cow herd, first in calf herd and first in get a sire.

MacAuley May Be Starter Saturday

Regis "Red" MacAuley, former New Castle High quarterback is now calling signals for John Carroll University varsity team at Cleveland, and may get the starting berth Saturday afternoon against Adrian at the stadium, according to Cleveland advices.

MacAuley was on the freshman team last year, but had the misfortune to break his ankle, and was not in action for the biggest part of the season. His ankle has responded to treatment and is as sound as ever. He is expecting a great year. Only a sophomore, MacAuley will have two more years of football at the Cleveland school.

Yankee Money Is Flooding Market

Betting Public Seems To Think That Only One Team Will Play In Classic

CUBS MONEY IS REPORTED SCARCE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Yankee money, so urgent and imperative that it will neither recognize comical prices nor listen to logic, has flooded the eastern market on next week's world series, practically forcing a moratorium today.

This, anyhow, is the story of John T. Doyle, who ought to know. He handles most of the eastern money on sports events of outstanding merit and he has handled all the one-way bets he was on this one. That's one part of the story. The other is that, privately as well as professionally, John T. Doyle likes the Cubs at the odds, although the opinion may not be wholly platonic and non-partisan. He hasn't seen the size of a Cub dollar so far.

Supply And Demand.
"Baseball prices are not made by the respective abilities of the two clubs," says he. "It's all a matter of supply and demand."

So he has placed the following scale against the various possibilities of the series, noting an exception at this time only in the case of straight bets on the American League entry:

For the series, Yankees 3 to 5; Cubs 3 to 2.
For the first game, Yankees 1 to 2; Cubs 8 to 5.
Against winning the first two games, Yankees 7 to 5; Cubs 3 1-2 to 1.

Against Ruth hitting two home runs, even money.
Against Ruth hitting one home run, 1 to 2.
Against one home run by any Cub who is specifically named, even money.

It might seem from this that the man is tremendously unimpressed with the Cubs, whereas the contrary is quite the case and he merely is conforming to the mode, meantime playing human nature for the sucker it always is.

Likes Short End.
Why does he like the short-end here? Pitching and general defense. He thinks, for one thing, that the Cubs won't do worse than split the first two games here. He thinks for another, that they'll win two out of three in Chicago. He thinks, incidentally, that Lon Warneke is the greatest young pitcher of the last ten years.

"He can throw that low, fast one right through a bracelet," says the gentleman, not without a touch of rhetoric.
And, according to me, with more than a touch of sound, valid truth, the man who takes the long price on a world series doesn't have to be crazy. But undoubtedly it helps.

CONCESSIONAIRES AT FAIR REQUIRED TO TAKE HEALTH EXAM

For the protection of the fair going public, representatives of the state health department have arrived here and are requiring all concessionaires who handle food stuffs to secure health certificates, showing that they are in proper physical condition to handle food stuffs sold the public.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Following in the Youngstown Vindicator is of interest here:

Ella Kerber Resch was granted a divorce from Oswald A. Resch July 30, records in the clerk of courts office show, although no notice of the divorce was made at the time on court docket entries handed each day to newspapers.

The divorce was granted by Judge Frank L. Baldwin on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. A private agreement for alimony was made, the records show.

Mrs. Resch filed suit for divorce June 13 and asked that the case be advanced for immediate trial.

The couple was divorced previously and then remarried.

Leaders Continue To Advance In Market Transactions Of Day

TRADING OCCURS
AT FURIOUS PACE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Heavy buying of the rails turned the stock market upward again today.

The eastern merger rails were the leaders and carried the rest of the list forward after early irregularity. U. S. Steel recovered and other leaders like American Can and Allied Chemical scored gains.

Tobacco stocks were aided by the upturn in cigarette consumption last month. Oils were easy on weakness in gasoline prices.

Chrysler was outstanding in the motors and one string came out on the tape involving nearly 20,000 shares. United Aircraft was another active issue, though ruling under yesterday's close.

Farm implement shares were strong despite wheat's decline after early strength. Bullish sentiment was stimulated by strength in cotton and other commodities while bonds turned in another strong performance.

Trading was at a furious pace and the ticker was behind several times in the forenoon.

The Second Ward is divided as to county residence, 705 taxables of the Second Ward being in Beaver county and $262,250 of the assessed valuation being there. In Lawrence County the Second Ward has 1495 taxables and an assessed valuation of $1,368,495.

The Fourth Ward is second in the number of taxables, 1642, with an assessed valuation of $874,000. The Fifth Ward has 495 taxables, and an assessed valuation of $367,015.

Double Wedding
Occurs Wednesday

ELLWOOD COUPLES ARE PRINCIPALS IN DOUBLE CEREMONY AT MERCER

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 22.—A double wedding of unusual interest occurred yesterday when Miss Ethel Blanche Cogley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cogley of Burnstown, became the bride of Lawrence Paul McNany, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McNany of Orchard avenue, and Miss Mary Gladys Klingensmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klingensmith of Hazel avenue, became the bride of Lester John McNany, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McNany of Orchard avenue.

The wedding ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock at the home of Rev. Claude Conley in Mercer. The brides were charmingly attired in gowns of brown silk crepe with matching accessories.

Following the congratulatory period on their returning home they were served a delicious wedding dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Klingensmith. A large wedding cake flanked with yellow roses formed the centerpiece. Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Cogley, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McNany, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klingensmith, Mr. Josephine Richard, Miss Dorothy Klingensmith, Cyrus Klingensmith and the honored couples.

Later in the evening a reception was held with members of the immediate families calling to congratulate the happy couples. Delicious refreshments were served the guests. Both couples received a number of lovely gifts.

Both couples are popular in this vicinity, having attended the local schools and at present Lester McNany is employed at the Guy Coal company while Lawrence McNany is a well known barber in this city.

For the present both couples will reside at the homes of the brides' parents.

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 22.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the large frame barn owned by Edward Moyer at Lillyville last night. The flames were discovered at 9 o'clock. Mr. Moyer had just been in the barn, having thought he detected the odor of cigarette smoke, but could not find any evidence and returned to the house, which is about 75 feet from the barn, when the entire structure burst into flames.

Mr. Moyer and his neighbors were able to get the automobile out but one cow and a horse were incinerated. A small calf was rescued. The season's crops, which had been recently gathered into the barn, and the farming implements were destroyed. There being absolutely no facilities for combating fires, nothing could be done. Fortunately the wind was not blowing in the direction of the house or other nearby buildings or they too probably would have burned. A spark which was blown a quarter of a mile ignited a corn shock but the blaze was put out before any damage could be done.

The loss has been estimated at $3,000 and is partially covered by insurance.

Recent Enactment
Of Law Is Heard
By School Board

Attorney Moffat Tells Of Periodical Payment Of Taxes And Abatement

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 22.—An interesting explanation of two recent enactments of the state legislature was heard by the board of education at its special meeting in the Lincoln school last night.

Attorney W. J. Moffat of New Castle, the board's advisor, read and later explained the periodical payment of taxes according to the new law passed. He asserted that the board has power to plan periodical payments and arrange for the tax penalties accordingly. The periods of payment are to be set by the board.

Another law read and explained permitted the board to abate local tax penalties in whole or in part. A request of Burgess J. C. Turner to permit children use of Lincoln field as a playground after grid practice was granted by the board. Burgess Turner plans to keep a policeman on duty to see that no property is destroyed. The gates to the field will be locked at nine p. m.

The board decided to put a number of people on the payroll to aid the janitors from time to time. A recommendation to admit out-of-town children whose parents pay taxes here, free of tuition, was referred to the finance committee for an investigation. If the recommendation was accepted it would refer to people whose school taxes are higher than the tuition.

Board members at this time received a revised copy of the 1932 tax duplicate for study.

The accident occurred while the car was passing underneath an apparatus for loading sand. The brakeman was unaware of this and just when the car was about to pass completely under the apparatus, an extension struck Schaney on the head and knocked him from atop the car to the ground.

Except for receiving a gash and terrible pain in his head, Schaney is none the worse for his experience. He had been immediately taken to an office of a near-by physician where the injury was dressed.

Link Davis To Charity Balls

First Testimony Of Nature Is Presented On Wednesday Afternoon

DAVIS ADDRESS IN 1931 IS CITED

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 22.—U. S. Senator Davis of Pennsylvania, general director of the Loyal Order of Moose, was linked for the first time with the charity balls of 1930 and 1931 at his trial Wednesday afternoon, for alleged violation of the federal lottery laws.

The government charges the balls were conducted as lotteries. The defense counsel denied that Davis had any connection with them.

Davis' Address.
The testimony that Senator Davis in an address at a luncheon in 1930 which followed the prize drawings at Mooseheart, had approved the promotion work on the 1930 ball and recommended it be continued in 1931, was brought out while Rodney H. Brandon, former supreme dictator of the order, was on the witness stand.

Brandon, now public welfare director of Illinois, at first testified he could not recall what Senator Davis said in his 1930 Mooseheart address. Then Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman ruled that his memory could be refreshed by the government through reference to his testimony before the grand jury.

Reads Testimony.
Assistant District Attorney Louis M. Treadwell read from the grand jury testimony given by Brandon: "Did you testify as follows before the grand jury," asked the prosecutor.

(Grand jury testimony was read).
Q. Did Senator Davis at the luncheon in January 3, 1930, in Mooseheart, make a speech?
A. He did.

Q. What did he say?
A. He (Davis) expressed his approval of the enterprise and his satisfaction that it had been so successful. He said that he was glad to see the money that he needed it.

He thanked the promoter, that was the spirit of what he said. (Brandon testifying today) "Yes I did so testify."

(Treadwell continuing reading the grand jury minutes).

Q. Did Davis say anything in his address about the possibility or plan of having another ball the next year?

A. I would say that he probably had.

(Brandon, testifying today).

"I think so."

Horace Mayer, of Philadelphia, member of the printing firm of Marcus and Mayer, was called as a witness, out of turn, in order to get back to his business.

He testified he printed the tickets for the 1930 Mooseheart charity ball on a verbal order from Raymond Walsh.

Walsh was assistant to Bernard McGuire, promoter, both of whom are under indictment in connection with violating the federal lottery laws.

Mayer testified that the tickets were marked for delivery to the Loyal Order of Moose, Propagation Department, in the Widener Building, Philadelphia.

He said he sent the bill for the printing to the Loyal Order of Moose, Propagation Department, Mooseheart, Ill., and received a check in payment.

Margiotti Says Sen. Davis' Financial Transactions Will All Be Explained

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Checks and black and red figures in bank records will again play inanimate but important roles in the continuation today of the trial of U. S. Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, former director general of the Loyal Order of Moose, charged with violation of the national lottery law.

The government is attempting to show that $100,000 from the proceeds of the $3,000,000 Moose charity balls, alleged to have been lotteries, passed into the personal accounts of the former secretary of labor.

However, Charles J. Margiotti, of Punxsutawney, Pa., chief counsel for Davis, told International News Service that the financial transactions introduced by the prosecution will be "fully explained" when the defendant presents his side of the case.

Through Melvin Carnahan, auditor of the Fidelity Trust Company, of Pittsburgh, the government introduced the following purported transactions:

In 1927, Mrs. Jean R. Davis, wife of the senator, obtained a note for $150,000 on collateral of numerous securities in her husband's name.

On Oct. 1, 1930, there was a balance due on her note of $127,418.50, plus interest of $658.32.

On that date, her note was paid through a check drawn from the account of the "organization department" of the Moose.

The account in the organization department's name was previously credited with $150,000, through a loan for which Senator Davis endorsed the note.

Then, on January 9, 1931, shortly after the drawings were made for the prizes given in connection with the 1930 charity ball, according to the government, $100,000 was applied against the note endorsed by Davis, reducing it to $50,000.

The $100,000 payment was made through three checks, $50,000, $30,000 and $20,000, from Fred W. Jones, treasurer of the organization department. The government charges Jones was "financial agent" for Davis and that the money represented by the checks were from the profits incident to promoting the charity ball.

The present status of Davis in relation to the "organization department" has not yet been made clear. Under a contract entered into between Davis and the Moose in 1928, he was given special organizing privileges with permission to keep the initiation fees of new members secured. The senator operated thru the "organizing department" at the time.

The government contends that this contract is still in force but defense counsel, through cross-examination of witnesses, has indicated that it will seek to show that Davis turned over the affairs of the department to former assistants, one of them being Jones.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

It used to be that fairs were daytime sports and if you didn't get around to see the blue ribbon hogs by dusk, you were out of luck. Now they keep whooping it up until it's time to think about bed. And the folks seem to like it.

The next step in fairs will probably be night racing. Like football and baseball and boxing, a race track could be illuminated for evening trots and paces and while the horses might not like the idea, it sounds all right to us.

One other thing we've never seen yet is a limestone mine. All the limestone we ever saw produced was stripped, that is it was taken out by taking the top layer of dirt off. Mining it is something else again and Saturday afternoon the engineers of the city are going to Anandale to have a look at the mine over there.

Limestone as you probably know is just a collection of shells and fish-bones that have been laying around fourteen or fifteen million years and got hardened but down in that mine according to Roy Shira they run across some queer fossils.

He has a fossilized turtle that he found six feet below the limestone strata. Apparently the turtle had crawled into the mud to take a snooze and before he woke up the earth was starting to harden. The

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

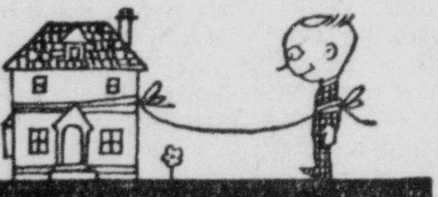

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin eruptions break out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Religious Revivals Will Be The Subject Of The Rabbi's Sermon Theme

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, will conduct its next regular service on Friday evening, September 23, at 8 p. m., Daylight Saving time, Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield officiating. The topic of the sermon will be: "Religious Revivals", and will be based on the text taken from the Book of Isaiah, Chap. 40, verse 31.

The Saturday morning service to New Castle Junction is going to remove one of the highway hazards of the county. It was always a thrill driving that road in slippery weather and you could lay yourself odds that you would or you wouldn't skid off the side, depending upon your brakes and ability.

What was probably the most hair raising ride I ever took was down over that hill one morning about two o'clock. A workman down in one of the railroad camps had been slit from ear to ear with an axe by another chap who didn't like him or something, and County Detective Dunlap answered the call.

Seventeen guardian angels must have ridden the car with us that night for we went over that winding precipitous hill at fifty miles an hour. That ride is partly responsible for the gray hair which we have.

The new road will be a straight shot over the top of the hill and that winding, death trap down around the hill side will be abandoned. All of which will be good news to the fellows who work at the junction or who have to go on through to West Pittsburg.

COSTS IN BINGO CASES ARE PLACED ON MERCER COUNTY
MERCER, Pa., Sept. 22.—Harry Morrison and Edward M. Deitz, both of Butler, arrested on the last day of the Mercer fair on charges of conducting gambling game, the specific offense being running "Bingo", were discharged by Justice Thomas McClain, Jr., of Mercer, yesterday afternoon.

The testimony showed that each player received a gift or prize and that there was a capital prize given. The letter sent out by the State Department of Agriculture stated that a game of chance was where each player did not receive some article. The costs were placed on the county.
